

THE PLAIN DEALER

HUDSON JUNIOR INVITATIONAL

Rainstorm forces early conclusion

Thursday, June 18, 2009

Tim Rogers

Plain Dealer Reporter

The final round of the 31st annual Hudson Junior Invitational had too much rain and too little time.

The last 18 holes were washed out Wednesday despite tournament officials' efforts to play to conclusion.

"We tried the best we could to get it all in but we simply ran out of time and got too much rain," tournament director Bill McCorkle said of the final round, which rain halted twice before a third storm left several greens under water, and out of town contestants scrambling to make airplane reservations.

Because the entire field failed to finish, scores reverted to the 36-hole totals, meaning Girard's Bruce "Boo" Timko and Texan Trey Sullivan shared the boys title with scores of 5-under 139. Rocky River's Matthew Girard (St. Ignatius) was the top local finisher (146).

Floridian Jordan Lippetz was declared the girls winner at 145 and Nicki Henry, from Chagrin Falls, was the top local player (158).

To reach the Plain Dealer reporter:

trogers@plaind.com, 216-470-5945

GOLF

HUDSON JUNIOR INVITATIONAL

Rainstorm forces early conclusion

TIM ROGERS
Plain Dealer Reporter

The final round of the 31st annual Hudson Junior Invitational had too much rain and too little time.

The last 18 holes were washed out Wednesday despite tournament officials' efforts to play to conclusion.

"We tried the best we could to get it all in but we simply ran out of time and got too much rain," tournament director Bill McCorkle said of the final round, which rain halted twice before a third storm left several greens under water, and out of town contestants scrambling to make airplane reservations.

Because the entire field failed to finish, scores reverted to the 36-hole totals, meaning Girard's Bruce "Boo" Timko and Texan Trey Sullivan shared the boys title with scores of 5-under 139. Rocky River's Matthew Girard (St. Ignatius) was the top local finisher (146).

Floridian Jordan Lippetz was declared the girls winner at 145 and Nicki Henry, from Chagrin Falls, was the top local player (158).

To reach the Plain Dealer reporter:
trogers@plaind.com, 216-470-5945